Thoughts: From the Chairman

Just got back from Corvettes at Carlisle, and what a great weekend weather wise. Great weather can make the meet so much more enjoyable.

The actual Corvettes at Carlisle is not the meet it was ten years ago. The big thing that has made this meet go down hill is the threat of state sales tax enforcement and penalties.

Vendors are thinning out and the crowds of people are not what they used to be. There is no more give away on Sunday and we now close down on Sunday at noon.

The future of Corvettes at Carlisle does not look good.

Our Fall meet is coming up on September 29th. We have the cars, but right now we do not have enough judges. We need to know if you will be there, hopefully with your registration form, so that we will have planned for enough food for your lunch.

Please help us out here

Thanks

Jerry

2013 National Convention

The NCRS held its National Convention in Hampton, VA from Sunday, July 21st to Thursday, July 25th. The event was held at the Hampton Roads Convention Center (HRCC). This was a great facility to hold the convention with lots of high bay space for the corvettes being judged and displayed, plenty of classrooms for the seminars and tech sessions and a large outside parking area for trailers and corvettes. It was also co-located with the Embassy Suites Hotel and many other hotels were close to the convention. Each of the four main days (Monday thru Thursday) had 3 events going on simultaneously: Judging, Tech Sessions/Seminars and tours to local attractions. Pictures of the convention are included later in this newsletter.

Corvettes at Carlisle 2013

The 32nd Annual Corvettes at Carlisle was well attended by members of the Northeast Chapter of NCRS. There were 7 spaces set aside for the chapter in the Vendor area (J126 – 128 and K127 – 130). Two members brought 10X10 tents which were set up in this area to provide shade. There were refreshments and chairs in that area for our members and tables were set up for NE NCRS members to sell corvette parts. The location was also close by to the food vendors. Many NE members have made Corvettes at Carlisle a tradition to attend for years.

Thursday was spent by most of us in the Vendor section looking for needed parts to complete a restoration, or enhance an ongoing project. This year, the vendor section was not as crowded as in past years, with several open vender spots. It seems more difficult to find parts for older corvettes in decent shape, however, there were still many vendors with diverse parts for any corvette, or corvette related merchandise.

Friday and Saturday were spent checking out all the incredible displays. To name a few:

- Chips' Choice – This year featured the "best of the 1963".
- The NCRS Gallery – A display of 22 Corvettes that represented each class in the NCRS. Included was Frank Aveni's 1967 Coupe.
- Manufacturer's Midway – Including the GM display, which featured the new 2014 corvette. There were 13 of the new corvettes onsite.
- 50th Anniversary – Original and restored to original 1963 Corvettes.
- Also - Fun Field, Burnout Contest, Autocross, NCCC Concours and Seminars

For members who have never attended Corvettes at Carlisle, or have not attended lately, make plans for 2014.
